STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONSPunjab Tenancy (Himachal Pradesh Amendment), Bill

Under the Punjab Tenancy Act as applied to Himachal Pradesh tenants from year to year and tenants-at-will had no security of tenure. They had consequently no interest in the improvement of land and could not initiate a long-term planning for improved cultivation so as to get greater yield from the land by them. This defect has to be remedied with a view to enable them to have greater yield from the land which is the need of the times. It has also been felt that the present rate of rent in kind is very heavy and a maximum limit for such rent is to be fixed with a view to save the cultivators of the land from exploitation by the land-owners. This Bill, is therefore, intended to amend the Punjab Tenancy Act in its application to Himachal Pradesh so as to fix a maximum limit for rent in kind and to give the tenants security of tenure.

M. CHANDRA,
Secretary (Judicial).STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS*Himachal Pradesh Panchayat Raj Bill, 1952

In a democratic country it is necessary that the people should feel that they have a hand in the government of their country. The existence of the Parliament of the Union and the Legislatures of the States does not give them the same feeling as they would have if they themselves managed the affairs of the village, Tehsil or the District in which they live. The system of Panchayats is an ancient Indian institution. Without caring for a democratic name for the system of government, the people of ancient India managed to have a more truly democratic system in the country-side than what has been perhaps possible in many of western country enjoying a Parliamentary or a Republic system of government.

This Bill seeks to give the same wide popular basis to the executive and judicial Administration in the rural areas of the State. The Punjab Village Panchayat Act, 1939 as applied to the Himachal Pradesh was not found in conformity with the spirit of the times. The Panchayats formed under it were not representative of popular opinion and had a restricted field of activities. Under this Bill the Gram Sabha itself will be a body of the entire adult population of the village and will have its own budget and an elected executive called the Gram Panchayat. Through their Gram Panchayats the villagers will elect members of the Tehsil and the Zilla Panchayats. This Bill gives power to the villagers to levy certain taxes, manage their funds, prepare budgets, maintain and establish schools and dispensaries and look after sanitation, development of trade, commerce, agriculture and in short the entire social organisation of a village. It also provides for the establishment of a Volunteer Corps for watch and ward and the creation of the Nyaya Panchayats with a separation of the judiciary from the executive. These Nyaya Panchayats will have powers relating to the administration of Civil and Criminal justice, and an important feature of this Bill is that it gives to the people of the village a right of appeal against the decision of a Bench of the Nyaya Panchayat to a full Bench consisting of the Panches of the entire circle. The aim of the Bill is to revitalize village corporate life and to make the people self-reliant and to develop in them a spirit of common endeavour to ameliorate their conditions without depending too much on the agencies of the State and Union Government.

STATEMENTS OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Himachal Pradesh Tenants (Rights and Restoration) Bill, 1952

Many tenants had been ejected by the land-owners since 15th May, 1948 when they felt that some changes were to be introduced in respect of tenancy holdings. These ejections were most unfair and prejudicial to the interests of the cultivators and created a scare amongst them and many of them were left without any means of livelihood. It was also felt that a tenant should be entitled to purchase land when the land-owner sells it at the fair market value. This Bill is therefore, intended to restore the land to the tenants so ejected and to give them the right to purchase the land in their cultivatory possession when it is being sold.
